What Inspired Senior Reach?

- We recognized both a gap in services and confusion in how to access services in our community for older adults too.

- We saw opportunities to collaborate with partner agencies and how we could share existing resources in our community to create something that was more than the sum of our individual parts.

- We, like you, believe seniors should have the opportunity to make the choices that allow them to live an independent and healthy life regardless of their income, education, or ethnic background.
Tools to Identify Community Needs & Opportunities for Collaboration

What is Senior Reach?

- It is a collaborative program. In Colorado, Senior Reach is comprised of three partner agencies, two Community Mental Health Centers and a Seniors’ Resource Center, to provide:

  1. Mental Health Counseling & Wellness Services
  2. Care Management and In-home Resources
  3. Expanded Services in 6 different primary care provider (doctor) offices

- Senior Reach uses a two pronged approach:
  - Train volunteers (community partners) on the unique needs of older adults and early warning signs of when a senior may need assistance
  - Provide services via a single point of entry
Core Principles of Senior Reach: Partnership, Community & Elder Friendly Services

- Community Partner Trainings - training non-traditional and traditional community members and referral sources
- Single Point of Entry to refer older adults to mental health, wellness and care management services
- Collaboration and Partnership among community agencies
- Evidence-Based
Services are Easy to Access, but How?...

- Senior Reach provides a single point of entry for older adults who may self refer for a variety of needs (meals, grab bars, information and referral, emotional support, etc.)

- Senior Reach trains volunteers in the community (community partners) to recognize the unique needs of older adults and provides the same single point of entry to refer seniors for services.

- Elder Friendly Services…Engagement, Engagement, Engagement

Why Some Older Adults Don’t Ask for Assistance

- Concern over loss of independence or control over their life
- Fear of being placed in a nursing home
- Not wanting to be a burden
- Stigma in seeking help
- Lack of money or knowledge of resources
- Health or physical limitations
Unique Treatment Needs of Seniors

- Cultural issues

- Family and caregiver concerns

- Elder-friendly approach and environment

- Health literacy

Partnerships Are Valuable

“…because the collaborative process brings different kinds of people and organizations together, making it possible for them to accomplish much more than they can on their own.”

The Value in Community Partnerships

- Impact: Expand impact by identification of older adults not seeking services on their own behalf via Community Partner trainings

- Services: Build a collaborative community network to support and expand services for seniors

- Expertise: Quality of training & services are enhanced

- Sustainability: Embedding services in partner organizations helps sustainability

- Community Support: Helps secure future funding
Lessons in Developing Agency & Community Partnerships

- Identification of community partners must be on-going
- Be clear on the services you can offer
- Understand agency partner needs and what they can & can’t offer
- Participate in agency partner activities
- Be active in the communities you serve
Lessons in Maintaining Partnerships

- Partners are advocates of our program and can educate others in different arenas about our services - keep them well informed.

- Recognize partners at every opportunity both publicly and individually.

- Open communication - ask for help if needed, offer support and help when needed.

- Have fun 😊!
What does a Senior Reach Community Partner Do?

- Volunteers are community members trained in identifying older adults in need of assistance.

- They become keen observers of an older person’s personal appearance, mental and emotional states, personality and physical changes, poor health, social problems, substance abuse, caregiver stress, abuse or neglect, social isolation, financial hardship, and the risk factors of suicide.
How Does a Community Benefit from Education about the Needs of Older Adults?

- Trained volunteers become the “eyes and ears” for older adults in need or at risk

- Reduced stigma about mental health and aging

- Prepare your business and human services sector staff to work more effectively with older adults

- Help your residents adapt to the changing needs of the community/ changing demographics

- Provide easy access to information in an elder friendly manner
Community Outreach Results

- 2,500-3,000 individuals are trained per year and about half of those are non-traditional reporters.

- Over 32,000 trained to identify seniors at risk and refer to Senior Reach in Colorado and Kansas in the past six years.
Senior Reach has Resulted in:

- Better overall services to older adults
- Proven research-based evaluation outcomes
- Coordinated care
- Greater community understanding of seniors
- Spirit of volunteerism
Research Data- 13 Statistically Significant Outcomes* Including…

- Better overall level of functioning
- Increased optimism about the future
- Increased positive activities with others
- Reduction in social isolation
- Decreased emotional disturbance
- Decreased risk of suicide
- Better outcomes on the Geriatric Depression Scale

*Indicates statistically significant change at p< .05 from time of enrollment to discharge-paired sample t-tests.

Community Response

- Senior Reach has been met with overwhelming response from seniors, family members, professionals, and community members and has exceeded all expectations in training and outreach efforts.
Referral Sources Say…

- “I’m glad there is a program to turn to- that will help with my mom.”

  Tom, Adult Son

- “Intervention by Senior Reach has made a tremendous difference for my client.”

  Veronica, Case Manager

- “Our partnership really made the difference in this person’s life.”

  Diane, Adult Protection
Evolving Partnerships…

- Senior Reach has partnered with 6 different primary care providers (doctors offices)

- Expanded services include depression and substance use screening and brief intervention via PhQ-2, SBIRT, and Depression Care Management

- Over 2,000 older adults screened in six months

- Over 250 brief interventions provided
Lessons Learned…

- Take time up front to build the infrastructure and partnerships
- Begin data collection from the beginning of the project
- From the beginning, include the population for the project
- Use a defined continuous quality method such as:
  - Plan, Do, Study, Act
  - MAP-IT Health People 2020
- Get the right people on the “bus”
What Senior Reach Can Do for Your Community!

- Provide prevention and early intervention services for older adults

- Increase awareness of older adult needs and reduce the stigma of mental illness and aging

- Increase provider and community expertise with older adult needs

- Increase knowledge of and collaboration with community resources

- Provide a project model that can be replicated in other counties with similar results
Concerned About an Older Person?

Mission
To support the well being and independence of seniors by educating the community on how to identify and refer isolated, at-risk older adults who may benefit from mental health or care management services.

It’s Simple to Make a Call
If you know an older adult who seems distressed or is in need of assistance, contact Senior Reach at:

1-866-217-5808

When calling provide as much information as possible including name, address, telephone number and concerns.

Confidentiality of all parties will be maintained.

Are You Interested in Becoming a Senior Reach Community Partner?
You can make a difference.

Any concerned member of our community who comes in contact with vulnerable older adults may become a Senior Reach Community Partner.

Join us in this important effort.
