Imagine a better way to find, engage and support your most vulnerable members

It's no secret. Our nation is consumed by mental health issues, with the pandemic having greatly increased the need for resources and solutions for people with anxiety, depression and substance use. For those with serious mental health challenges, an end-to-end member centric approach using high-tech, high-touch resources and dedicated care management teams is required. Yet many health plans lack the resources and expertise to expand beyond basic behavioral health services.

Magellan's member-focused care model

Tailored to align with your current behavioral health services and resources, Magellan's behavioral health solutions are guaranteed to reduce behavioral healthcare and medical spend. At Magellan, we:

- Find and engage members early.
- Connect with members personally.
- Develop care plans.
- Ensure access to providers and resources.
- Monitor and support members.
- Focus on a fast return to home and community.

Magellan's unparalleled behavioral health solutions:

- Bring decades of behavioral health expertise to our health plan partners.
- Stratify populations to identify your most vulnerable members and support your members who are already in higher levels of care.
- Align dedicated behavioral health care managers and clinical social workers to assist with members' transition from inpatient facilities to care management.
- Encompass the entire end-to-end member care journey—we stay connected to members until they can safely return to their homes.
- Employ a suite of digital tools, technology-driven journals and self-care resources in tandem with behavioral health virtual and office consultations, customized to reach members wherever they are in their mental health journey.
- Ensure access to providers and resources, leveraging Magellan's local networks to serve people with special conditions, such as substance use disorders, eating disorders and autism spectrum disorders.
- Bring our behavioral health expertise to address the diverse needs of Commercial, Medicare and Medicaid populations, as well as a strong track record of delivering improved member outcomes, lowering member care costs and delivering overall cost-of-care savings.

As our world becomes increasingly stressful, let us share our expertise and help you meet your members' behavioral health needs. Call me at 314-341-7919 or email me at jcbeck@magellanhealth.com to learn more.
